The Lower Sandusky freeman. TERMS.

Paymentin advance..... $1,50 A failure to notify us of a desire to discontinue, is under-stood as wishing to continue the subscription, and the paper will be sent accordingly, but all orders to discontinue when arrearages are paid, will be faithfully attended to Law of Newspapers.

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary, are considered as wishing to continue their sub-2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their pa pers, the publisher may continue to send them until all arrearages are paid.

3. If subscribers neglector refuse to take theirpapers from the office to which they are directed, they are held responsible till they settle their bill and order their papers discontinued. 4. If subscribers remove to other places, without in-forming the publisher, and the paper is sent to the formor direction, they are held responsible.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take a newspaper or periodical from the office, or removing and leaving it uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of inten-

How TO STOP A PAPER. - First see that you have paid for it up to the time you wish it to stop; notify the post master of your desire, and ask him to notify the publisher under his frank, [as he is authorized to do] of you wish

Business Directory.

SONS OF TEMPERANCE. Fort Stevenson Division, No. 432-Stated meetings, every Tuesday evening at the Division Roomin the old Northern Exchange.

CADETS OF TEMPERANCE. Fort Stevenson Section, No. 102-meets very Thursday evening in the Hall of the Sons of Tem-

I. O. O. F. Croghan Lodge, No. 77, meets at the Odd Fellows Hall, in Morehouse's building, every Saturday

1819.] C. R. Mc CULLOCH, DEALER IN DRUGS, MEDICINES, PAINTS, DYESTUFFS, BOOKS, STATIONARY, &c.

Lower Sandusky, Ohio. RALPH P. BUCKLAND,

A TTORNEY AT LAW and Prosecuting Attorney for Sandusky county. Ohio, will attend to all professional husiness entrusted to his care, with promptness and fidelity. 13 OFFICE at the Court House.

CHESTER EDGERTON, Attorney and Counsellor at Law, AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY. OFFICE-At the Court House.

Lower Sandusky, O. Fox & Beaugrand, PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS PESPECTFULLY tender their professional services to the citizens of Lower Sandusky and vicinity.

OFFICE.—One door south of McCulloch's Drug store.

LA Q. RAWSON, PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON, LOWER SANDUSKY OHIO.

" May 26, 1849. Millinery and Dressmaking. MISS L. E. LENON,

PORTAGE COUNTY

Mutual Fire Insurance Company. R. P. BUCKLAND, Agent. LOWER SANDUSKY, OHIO.

Wanted at this Office, O CORDS good Hickory and Ash wood. To those who have promised us Wood we say, we want now. Freeman Office, L. Sandusky, May 26.

Post-Office Hours. THE regular Post-Office hours, until further will be as follows:—
From 7 to 12 A. M. and from 1 to 8 P. M.
Sundays from 8 to 9 A. M. and from 4 to 5 P. M. W. M. STARK, P. M.

BELL & SHEETS, Physicians and Surgeons, LOWER SANDUSKY, OHIO. OFFICE—Second Story of Knapp's Building. July 7, 1849.

B. J. BARTLETT. ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW LOWER SANDUSKY, OHIO, VILL give his undivided attention to professional business in Sandusky and the adjoining counties. Lower Sandusky, Feb. 27, '49. NEW ARRANGEMENT.

DRS. SHEETS & BELL. M owned by Dr. Sheets, in Tyler's Building, where they now offer a full assortment of and a great variety of fancy articles, such as cologne, hair oil, indelible ink, pen-unives, combs, bruehes of all kinds, with a full assortment of PATENT MEDICINES, for every disease that afflicts mankind; which we offer at very low psices for Cash, Beeswax, Ginseng, Sassafras Bark from the root and Paper Rags. Low Prices, and Ready Pay in something, SHEETS & BELL. is our motto forever.

Drugs, Medicines, Dye Stuffs, Oils, Paints,

Lower Sandusky July 14, 1849. TOLEDO HOUSE,

LOWER SANDUSKY, OHIO. ESTER VANDERCOOK respectfully announces Athat he has taken the above well known s'and in Lower Sandusky, and has thoroughly refitted and furnished it with all the new furniture, carpets, &c &c., necessary, and now solicits the attention and patronage of his friends and the public at large.

HIS TABLE.

Doetrp.

For the Freeman. TO MISS M. H.

Those eyes of blue, those eyes of blue, They speak a heart that's warm and true; And temper sweet and language too, Oh! how I love those eyes of blue.

Those cherry lips, they look so sweet, Like something nice that's good to eat; Or, like rose-buds tipped with dew, They match so sweet those eyes of blue.

A handsome form with matchless grace. Elastic step, angellic face; With pretty hair and forehead high, That shows so well that sweet blue eye. The lovely cheek must have its share,

Rose and lily are blended there: Those colors form so fine a hue, That suits so well those eyes of blue. Now Dear Manta, believe me true, I'll love ever only you; Happy I'd be, if thou wert nigh, To gaze upon that sweet blue eye. Will von dearest, but name the time.

When I may call you only mine; And let the days be very few. Till I shall claim those eyes of blue. September, 1849.

Miscellaneous.

From the Olive Branch. The Father and Daughter.

O Some feelings are to mortals given, With less of earth in them than heaven; And if there be a human tear From passion's dross refined and clear, A tear so limpid and so meek, It would not stain an angel's cheek, Tis that which pious fathers shed Upon a duteous daughter's head."

[Ludy of the Lake.

When Ellen Douglas' skiff landed in the bay where her father awaited her, and when the hero me to drink-she made me what I am, a poor mispressed his darling to his breast, such were the erable drunkard. Had she not put the wine glass to Scott has embalmed the Douglas' love for his daugh- and rallied me with her sarcasms, I should now ter, and has given us a picture radiant with beauty, have been a sober, respectable and useful man. A TTORNEY and Counseller at law and Soliciter of that holiest of all feelings, the love between parent and child.

If Office - Second story of Tyler's Block.

To Office - Second story of Tyler's Block.

To Office - Second story of Tyler's Block.

royal lover. The proud chieftain Rhoderick Dhu, indeed is your influence for good or evil.—Diadem. no longer grapples in fierce jealousy with his equain bravery, and his victor in love, the youthful Malome Græme. Nor may we hear the plaintive notes These are to us, (thanks to the immortal bard!) But only as we enter this gallery, which we have filled with the master pieces of Shakspeare and of accomplishments, have been stripped, and their tendays of chivalry be gratified.

ces of life, in this age and country. Lowering cas-tles, overlooking vine-clad fields—knights in com-garian officer was taken prisoner, tried by courtplete armor, ready to risk life and limb for one martial, and condemned to be executed at the end bright glance of their lady's eye, tilts and tournable of twenty-four hours. He was betrothed to a young shrubs. Rose returned to her room, and—in a few ments, these belong not to our age or land, nor do lady, the flower of her sex in beauty, and every minutes was fast asleep! we need them. There is a chivalry which needs thing else that constitutes female excellence, TOULD inform the Ladies of Lower Sandusky, no clashing of spears. There is a romance, a heromade her way to his cell; she prevailed upon him is not record to do work in the ladies of Lower Sandusky. and vicinity, that she is prepared to do work in ism, which has not passed away with the days of the neatest manner and in the fashion

RESIDENCE, nearly opposite the Methodist Church.

May 26, 149

made her way to his cell; she prevailed upon him to exchange clothes with her, to pass the centries and escape. He succeeded, and reached his own heroism of the affections, higher and pobler far than knighthood. It is the romance of the heart, the and escape. He succeeded, and reached his own that of outward words and deeds. This heroism ecution, he was missing, and in his stead was his 10th instant, in order to get into Ohio and secure of time. Lasting as the human race, enduring as Austrian General Haynau? A file of soldiers was The other four clung to the bottom and cried for its affections, it will only cease when the heart of ordered out—she was tied to a post—her eyes help, which came to them in the shap of a gentlehumanity ceases to beat, and its pulse forgets to were bandaged—and she was brutally and inhu-

The noblest instance of this heroism is the unselfish love which binds a father to a child. We need not search the 'Lady of the Lake,' for a hero or a heroine, in this drama. Daily life will afford us in that cottage by the road-side, in that narrow room, life, the brightest hopes of youth, for an aged or in-ng instances of a father's love? In the workshop But love—a Father's love, more mighty than the love of fame, or gold, who shall measure the strength HAVING entered into a partnership in the Drug Store of its bands? Who shall fathom its wondrous wrong, be sure that the class is right before it is der is that they do not call for the enactment of a to Cuba. dismissed. Repeat, and fix attention on the exact special law to restrain the elements from "gamerror, till it can never be committed again. One boling in their mild freedom of nature."—[Com. clear and distinct idea is worth a world of misty Adv. ones. Time is of no consequence in comparison with the object. Give the child full possesion of one clear, distinct truth and it becomes to him a centre of light. In all your teaching-no matter what time it takes-never leave your pupil till you gent mercantile house on Red River, dated,

> HOW TO TEACH CHILDREN.—The following, from utes the true mode of teaching the young;

A Mother's Influence.

The details of the following narratives, are facts given almost in the words of a young man who was the subject thereof, and it conveys a lesson fraught with much instruction, especially to those mothers whose influence ss not favorable to the cause of total abstinence:

'I am,' said J. B., 'twenty-three years of age, and in me you see the miserable wreck of a man, whose evil destiny was caused by a mother's ill-directed influence, and mistaken views of etiquette; nay, she was the blind slave of a pernicious fashion. When I was 18 years of age, I was a young man of promise; my education was liberal, and my advantages had not been neglected. I was a close and attentive student. I had entered - College to complete my studies, which were pursued with special reference to the ministry. At the age of sixteen I joined the 'Young Men's Total Abstinence Society,' which had recently been formed in the town of my residence; and for three years, I scrupulously ob- perfume of flowers and spices, were filling the air served its pledge. In my nineteenth year, during with heavenly odors. Ten thousand frogs, with the summer recess, I visited the place of my na- voices sweeter than the nightingale's were making tivity, and high and cheering were my anticipated joys, as I neared the home of my boyhood. But how deeply were those hopes blasted. I was welcomed home with every demonstration of affection, below. Stars, like new dimes, glittered in the and for a few days my happiness was unbroken .- heavens. I visited old friends, and old scenes, and old walks. I strolled through the woods in which my boyish feet had often wandered. I sat once again in the old school house, and looked with almost revervnce of the rich, the aristocratic Richard Stanley. By an upon the village church, but my bliss was of short open window, leaning on her every, sat his only duration. I found that wine was almost every child, Rose. A sight escaped her—tears are stealwhere proffered to friends, and I always refused the offered glass, till in a moment of evil, my mother her absent lover—Louis Radford—her father's bitpressed me to throw away my foolish scruples, and to drink wine with my youthful friends; nay, my mother's hand filled and presented me with the first glass of any intoxicating drink. Now look at me! her absent ter enemy. A dark house—it look at me! Twenty-three years old, and all my prospects blasted-my education thrown away, my manhood dishonored, and me, a miserable wreck; a poor drunken sot. Yes, I am a drunkard, and my mother made me what I am. My mother! ves, she caused me to break my pledge-she urged tears which steeped her tresses. In these lines my lips; had she not bandied me with her jokes, wet with rain, he bathes her temples. She breathes

Mother! where is your influence, and what direction is it taking? Sister, are you pledged Now the days of chivalry and romantic adven- to discountenance all the causes and practices of blush. ture are passed. No powerful king in disguise follows the deer through our woods. No lovely mainty by the deer through our woods. No lovely mainty by the deep distribution of the causes and practices of intemperance? Mothers—Sisters, shall your sons, your brothers die the drunkard's death, and in the den fairer than 'Nymph, Naid, Grace,' guides her last great day charge their destruction to your aclight skiff across the lake, nor brings to her feet the count? Great are your responsibilities, for great

Austrian Brutality.

We have the most revolting accounts of the horof old Allan's harp, or see the venerable form of rible barbarrities practiced by the Austrians upon the old harper, standing by the margin of the lake. the Hungarians who full into their hands. The proclamation of the Austrian commanders, pubbright, glowing, images of beauty, of love, of chival-lished in the foreign news will give the reader an ry, which our imagination clothes with reality, and idea of the brutality of the warfare. The N. Y. which we make a part of our soul's picture gallery. Herald gives the following instances of enormity: 'Lovely women of rank, fortune, education, and

Scott, can our love for the wild romance of the der persons exposed to, and excoriated with the lion-hearted Louis is beyond even gun-shot. lash, by the rufianly soldiery, for their fidelity and This is true in regard to the outward circumstan- patriotism. Yes, and some have been shot! Soon heroism of the affections, higher and nobler far than camp in safety. At the period allotted for his ex- Ohio River below Maysville, on the night of the manly shot!'

PENSIONS.-No little misunderstanding and confusion has arisen, in consequence of the somenumerous instances of what we seek. Close at hand what indefinite terms in which is conveyed the act of Congress, passed at its last session, granting in one of our city's narrowest lanes, we may find five years half pay to certain widows and orphans, many an Ellen, ready to sacrifice the best years of of officer, musicians and privates, both regular and volunters. It is presumed that this extension of firm parent 'Toiling and sorrowing, onward thro' the pension system had reference only to the sollife they go; but yet rejoicing that youth and diers engaged in the late war with Mexico,-inhealth still continue to them that vigor, without deed the Commissioner of Pensions, interrogated which the loved object of their cares must suffer on the subject, has so decided. An idea, howerom want.

Where shall we turn, where look, without findvious wars, or in a limited sense, granted by law of the mechanic, in the store of the tradesman, in to all soldiers dying of wounds, in the military serthe clergyman's study, in the lawyer's office, we vice of the U. States, prior to the passage of the may find it never varying, never failing, but, like act (of February, 1849,) aforementioned. It God's sunshine, pervading the heart of every man whom a little child calls father.' Ambition is strong—it has tempted many into rais. —it has tempted many into ruin. Avarice is strong—it has tempted many into ruin. Avarice is strong—it has wrecked the happiness of many a soul.—

it has wrecked the happiness of many a soul.—

it has wrecked the happiness of many a soul.—

it has wrecked the happiness of many a soul.—

it has wrecked the happiness of many a soul.—

it has wrecked the happiness of many a soul.—

Orleans Patria asserts postively that the plan of the widows and children of those officers and soldiers, who served during the late war with Mexister and soldiers, who served during the late war with Mexister and soldiers, who served during the late war with Mexister and soldiers, who served during the late war with Mexister and soldiers, who served during the late war with Mexister and soldiers, who served during the late war with Mexister and soldiers, who served during the late war with Mexister and soldiers, who served during the late war with Mexister and soldiers, who served during the late war with Mexister and soldiers, who served during the late war with Mexister and soldiers, who served during the late war with Mexister and soldiers, who served during the late war with Mexister and soldiers, who served during the late war with Mexister and soldiers, who served during the late war with Mexister and soldiers.

"Fulton, Aug. 23, 2849.

THE LOVERS.

A Tale of the Nineteenth Century.

FOUNDED ON FACT. CHAPTER I.

Night, black is bony, had spread her sable mantle o'er the earth. The piercing winds howled and whistled—and whistled and howled. The rain poured in torrents, from clouds black as night itself. save when the chains of burning fire shot through the pichy blackness, then disappearing, leaving the night if possible, more awfully gloomy. Thunder -peal on peal-ever and anon shook the firmament from river to river-from sea to sea-from ocean to ocean, and from pole to pole.

O, horrid scene!

CHAPTER II. The storm had ceased. The howling winds had died away, and gentle zephyrs, laden with the rich

O, lovely, lovely sight!

CHAPTER III.

A single light gleamed from the stately mansion ing from her heavenly eyes. She is weeping for ter enemy. Hours passed on, and still she sighs

A dark form is moving stealthily towards the house-it nears the window-it rises. Heavens! 'Tis a man!! 'Rose, dearest Rose,' whispered he in a voice, than which an angel's could not be softer Rose hears the voice.

"Tis his-tis Louis," she screams, and springing from the window, is caught in the arms of Louis Radford. He presses his lips to hers-they are as cold as ice. She has fainted. Half frantic he bears fection:her to an arbor close by, and plucking roses, still -she moves-her eyes open.

'Where am I?' 'Safe with your Louis,' replied a manly voice .-She turns, smiles and blushes. He blushes. Both

The moon shone brightly, and the stars danced The moon shone brightly, and the stars danced the Louisville boards last spring, is playing first characters in the serene heavens. Rose carelelessly ters at St. Louis, and his efforts meet the warm culegithrew back her raven tresses, but she was calm as a summer's morn.

'O, be mine, dearest Rose,' exclaimed Louis, falling on his knees, and clasping her hand in his.— 'Never more will we part. If dangers threaten, I will be near to defend thee. Willingly would I shed the last drop of blood to save thy -

'Listen!' exclaimed Rose, 'I heard a step!' Louis turns and dimly sees an object approach ng the shrubbery. It's a man! Horror of hor rors! It's old Stanley with a gun on his shoulder Louis hesitates not a moment, but seizing-his hat, clears the arbor at a single leap! An instant, and CHAHTER V. Mr. Stanley, whose sudden appearance so frightened our hero, turned out to be an old tame buck, NEGROES RUNNING AWAY FROM THE BLESSINGS or SLAVERY .- Eight slaves attempted to cross the that does not wear out. men who had them all put in jail for their masters. Another slave, who was helping them across, was flogged to the extent of the law—39 lashes.

More Troops for Florida .- In addition to the force already stationed in the peninsula of Florida, the following companies have, we understand, been ordered by the Secretary of War to Pilatka. Of the first Artillery, one field officer and four companies-three from the harbor of New-York and one from Fort Washington. Of the 2d Artillery, two companies-one from Fort Macon and one from Fort Johnson, North-Carolina. Of the Third Artillerry one field officer and four compan-

After these troops shall have reached Florida, the entire military force collected there for the protection of the inhabitants of the State will amount to thirty two companies or about 1,600 men.—[Balt American.

"THE REPUBLIC OF SIERLA MADRE."-The New Schools in Virginia.—A project to estabsh free schools in Albermarle country Va has been schools in Albermarle country. ish free schools in Albermarle county, Va. has been as, procure arms and ammunition, and, when the HEALTH OF "FANNY FORRESTER" AND FAMILY .two or three meetings in the week in addition to it is still heavy. his other duties. For myself, under the blessing Our river has at length fallen, and is rapidly of God, I have again railed a little, and we hope getting as it usually is at this season of the year I am slowly improving; though I suppose the dan-We understand that C. Taylor, jr., son of -very low. The injury done to the planters ger (if it be not an incongruity for a Christian to dated Sept. 1, says: The steamer Mary Kingsland Will always be liberylly supplied with the best the market affords, as he sujoys the best facilities for obtaining both substantials and luxuries. House barns, and yards are supplied with the best facilities for obtaining both substantials and luxuries. House barns, and yards are supplied with the best the market affords, as he sujoys the best facilities for obtaining burned from California excitement best supplied with the best the market are su

The following by W. M. PREAD, is the most happy thing of the kind we ever saw. The name of "Camp-bell," bright as it is in the constellation of poetic genius, shines brighter still when it can give inspiration like this:

CHARADE. Come from my first—ah, come! The battle dawn is nigh, ecreaming trump and the thundering drum Are calling thee to die! Fight as thy father fought, Fall as thy father fell:

Thy task is taught, thy shroud is wrought; So, forward!—and farewell! Toll ve my Second-tell! Fling high the flambeau's light, And sing the hymn of a parted soul Beneath the silent night. The wreath upon his head. The cross upon his breast! Let the prayer be said and the tear be shed, So-take him to his rest!

Call ye my whole!—ah, call The lord of lute and lay, him greet the sable pall With a noble song to day. Go, call him by his name; No fitter hand may carve
To light the flame of a soldier's fame
On the turf of a soldier's grave!

A YANKEE ANSWER .- A wager was laid that it was a Yankee peculiarity to answer one question by ask-ng another. To sustain the assertion a downeaster was sterrogated.

'I want you,' said the better, 'to give me a straightfor-"I kin du it, mister," said the Yaukes.

'I kin du it, mister," said the Yaukes.

'Then, why is it New Englanders always answer a question by saking one in return!"

'Du they?' was Jonathan's reply.

On Mr. Jefferson being presented at the French court, some eminent functionary said to him—

'You re-place Dr. Franklin, Sir?'

'I succeed Dr. Franklin,' was the reply—'no man can

Is Your house a warm one? asked a man in search of a tenement, of a landlord. 'It ought to be; the painter gave it two coats recently," was the reply. A lady in Chester was asked to join a Di-

There are many who will read such little nes as the following with strong feelings of parental af-

I have a son, a beauteous son, His age I caunot tell;
For they recoon not by months and years,
Where he has gone to dwell.

Let The people and state of Georgia have invested and will invest in railroads $12,000,000, from which the state is reaping large advantages in the improvement of real estate, the increased facilities to market, besides direct profits from the railroads. Mr. Stark, who sustained Mr. Macready on ums of the press of that city. BIG SPECIMEN.-The Little Rock Gazette, acknowledges the receipt of a specimen of lead ore, from the mines near that city, which weighs 1250 pounds. It was broken from a lump weighing about seven tous. ARKANSAS GOLD PLACERS.—The Little Rock Gazette of the 1st inst., says:—The accounts from the miu-eral region of the Arkansus and Red rivers are assuming a very promising aspect, and we have strong faith that the expeditions which have recently left our frontier in search of the precious minerals will be successful. We may be on the look out for some astounding news from the region west of Arkansas, as soon as the gold seekers reach the localities which tradition has long reported as rich in minerals and precious stones.

AF The Methodist Episcopal Church it is said have a call on them this year for $100,000.

AS Scratch the green rind of a sapling, or wan-in cotton weaving machinery have come from the Uni-

The pleasure of doing good is the only one

EXPORT OF CORN.-It will probably strike many Epigrams.

" Maria's like a clock, they say, Unconscious of her beauty; She regulates the live-long day, Exact in every duty. If this be true, such self-command, Such well directed powers, O! may her little minute hand, delightful benediction:

Become a hand of ours!"

Success to the Order and flourish it must, And one Opp Fellow make himself eves with me.

We are in favor, says an exchange, of do-

Sirerra Madre, and setting up an independent overboard to save the life of a poor wretch whom Republic is still prosecuted with great zeal. Some he has never seen before, he acts somewhat precip-voted down by the people, by a large majority. right arrives cross the Rio Grande and raise the thousand slaves have died of cholera in the Sout- Weller by Horace Greeley, in the New York Tria speech of Rev. Charles Brooks, of Boston accords precisely with our notions of what constitute accords precisely with never be brought forward again, to "distinguished by the constitute accords precisely with our notions of what constitute accords precisely with a proposed accords a pro turb our harmony and social peace." Any thing funds. The Patria is of opinion that the Round supply will be, as usual, principally from Maryland and Panama a woman of ill-fame." "If you find an error in the child's mind, follow free seems greatly to disturb our republican neight Island assemblage is realy distined for Tampico, and Virginia, creating an increased temporary deit up till he is rid of it. If a word is spelled bors of the ancient Dominion, and the only won- and has in relity nothing to do with the expedition mand. Slaves are already said to be held at a hig- graph. The article first appeared in the Ohio her value .- Balt. Sun.

> ODD.-Salt Creek, Jackson Co. Indiana, does A letter from Mrs. J. dated April 10, addressed to not contain one Whig voter, but it happens to her old pastor, at Utica, says:- 'Mr. J. and the chil- have more citizens in the State Prison than any The Overriow of Red River.—Extract of a dren are quite well. The former, able to preach letter to the Little Rock Democrat from an intellimost of the time twice on the Sabbath, and attend reduces the Loco-Foco majority considerably, but served in the moraing that he coughed with more [O. S. Journal.

An extract of a letter from Tampa Bay, Florida see specials and commedions, and he relies with certainty and he relies wi

Rural Life.

This primeval employment of man is the most healthful of all occupations; healthful for the body, the mind, and the soul. What other pursuit by which men obtain honest bread afford such vigorous training for the physical powers, such various and extensive ranges of mental exercises?

And where may the moral nature of man be preserved unsullied from vice, and grow and expand more than amid rural scenes and beneath the purest air of heaven?

The farmer's life is not scratch, scratch, with the pen-rap, rap, with the hammer-nor an everlasting unpacking and repacking of the product of another's labor. He walks forth under the open sky, his broad acres spread out beneath his feet; the blue concave, sun-lit, or star-lit, or shrouded in clouds, is still above him. Health claims him as her favorite child, and the glorious sun loves to kiss a cheek that is not ashamed to wear the ruddy imprint of such affection. Nature's own inimitable music of babling brooks, birds, breezes, or rustling foliage, enters his ear on its glad mission to his heart. He listens to instructive voices, continually speaking from the universe around him .-His eye gathers truth from unwriten pages of wisdom, everywhere open before him. Each day, each month, season after season, year after year, these teachings are given to him, infinite in variety and endless in extent.

When, toward the close of a sultry day, the summer's blessing comes pouring down, and as, in the beautiful poetry of the sacred volume, "the trees of the field clap their bands," and "the valleys, covered with corn, sout for joy," the farmer, retir-ing from his labors to the friendly shelter of his cottage roof, improves his leisure hours with the treasurs of written wisdom. So, too, while his fields are sleeping beneath frost and snow, what profession affords more available opportunities for self culture? Where was the lyric poetry com-posed that made Scotland prouder of her Burns than of all her ancient race of warlike kings?vision of the Daughters of Temperance. She replied,—
It is unnecessary; as it is my intention to join one of Was it not between the the handles of the Moss. geil plough?

Of all the employments that busy men in this presnt state of existence, the cultivation of the earth is distinguished as affording the best oppor-tunities for an extended range of mental discipline. for social, rural, and religious improvement.

And now, last of all agriculture shall put forth her highest claim. Of all men, the farmer alone walks in the path where God himself first took the created image by the hand and led the way "to dress and keep" his garden—the earth! Confid-ing in God, the husbandman ploughs his fruitful fields, while the birds of spring are singing praises around him. Buoyant with hope, he scatters the seed upon the ground, and gratefully receives the early and latter rain, coming down from Heaven to give the increase. And never did rational man yet apply the sickle to the golden grain without some vague idea of gratitude to God, the Giver of harvests!

Indeed, the husbandman's whole life, rightly viewed, is a walking "with God" And though thousands may not often think of this, and but a few, even in any small degree, appreciate it as they ought, nevertheless assertions claims to be

Virtue.

The creation of the sculptor may moulder in the dust-the wreath of the bard may wither-the tonly twist it in the soil, and a scarred and crooked oak will tell of thee for ages to come. How forcibly does this beautiful figure teach the necessity of giving right may be no longer hymned by the recording min-A late English paper says: 'It is remarka- strel; but virtue, that which hallows the cottage and sheds a glory around the palace, shall never decay. It is celebrated by the angels of God—it is written down on the pillars of Heaven, and re-peated down to earth. The rock-breaker who possesses it is more noble than the intriguing statesman. I would rather be in his place-I would rabelongs to our age, for it is not a fleeting, evannescent principle, crumbling to ruin, beneath the touch of time. Lasting as the human race, enduring as a state of the same mouth in 1847, the famine year.

Lasting as the human race, enduring as a state of the same mouth in 1847, the famine year.

Lasting as the human race, enduring as a state of the same mouth in 1847, the famine year.

Lasting as the human race, enduring as a state of the same mouth in 1847, the famine year.

Lasting as the human race, enduring as a state of the same mouth in 1847, the famine year.

Lasting as the human race, enduring as a state of the same mouth in 1847, the famine year.

Lasting as the human race, enduring as a state of the same mouth in 1847, the famine year.

Lasting as the human race, enduring as a state of the same mouth in 1847, the famine year.

Lasting as the human race, enduring as a state of the same mouth in 1847, the famine year.

Lasting as the human race, enduring as a state of the same mouth in 1847, the famine year.

Lasting as the human race, enduring as a state of the same mouth in 1847, the famine year. a Byron-the eloquence of a Mirrbeau, or the intellect of Bacon. It may be despised here-but if I possess it, then I shall tower above them all, when the guilty shall tremble in their secret places as they behold the heavens roll together as a > SINGULAR BUT TRUE STATEMENT .- There is a This is very pretty, no doubt; but here is something as handsome by a pretty girl, who celebrates in the St. Louis Union, the charities of the Odd Fellows during the recent pestilence in that city, and concludes with the following ters also reside in this county. One of them, the ters also reside in this county. One of them, the wife of Mr. William Faircloth, has had sixteen children, fourteen of whom are now living. The A light to the world, and a guide to the just:

>
> May their pure banner float o'er the land and the sea, other, the wife of Mr. Mathew Faircloth, has had twenty three children, eighteen of whom are now & Captain, dear' said a son of Erin, going on living-nine sons and nine daughters. These ladies are in the prime of life, with every prospect of an increasing family. Another sister, Mrs. Parker recently died in Scriven county, at the age of thirty-eight years, who had twenty-five children .-The children of the Mesdames Faircloth were all born in this county .- Albany (Ga.) Patriot Sept.

> > FALSEHOODS.-We observe an article from the Washington Union, going the circut of the Locofoco press in this State, of which the following is an

"COLONET WELLER.-Our readers will remem-DEMAND FOR SLAVES,-It is estimated that ten ber that one of the charges alledged against Col.

There is not a word of truth in the whole para Statesman, and was not copied into the Tribune, nor published in the Whig papers generally. [O. S. Journal.

PULMONARY PRACTICE.—Curran's ruling passion difficulty, he answered, "That is rather surprising, as I have been practicing all night.

An extract from a letter published in the